DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 1,4-9, 11-20, drawn to an image forming apparatus wherein the image forming apparatus being containable in a separate container stand, the battery is charged by containing the image forming apparatus in the container stand and the container stand having first contact terminal portion, second contact terminal portion, and third contact terminal portion, and the first contact terminal portion and the third contact terminal portion is conducted with the same polarity, classified in class 347, subclass 108.
- II. Claims 21-22, drawn to an image forming apparatus wherein the plurality of contact portions are conducted with a predetermined polarity in the inside of the charging means and the plurality of contact point portions are arranged in a symmetrical mode, classified in class 347, subclass 50.

Inventions II and I are related as combination and subcombination. Inventions in this relationship are distinct if it can be shown that (1) the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed for patentability, and (2) that the subcombination has utility by itself or in other combinations (MPEP § 806.05(c)). In the instant case, the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed because the plurality of contact point portions do not require a first contact terminal portion and a third contact terminal portion conducted with the same polarity; for example, a plurality of contact point portions might comprise only first and second contact terminal portions, and even if there is a third contact terminal portion, the first and third contact point portions might not be conducted with the same polarity. The subcombination has separate utility such as the first and third contact portions do not necessary need to be arranged in a symmetrical mode, as demanded by the combination; the first and third contact terminal portions could be arranged in an asymmetrical mode and still operate properly.

The examiner has required restriction between combination and subcombination inventions. Where applicant elects a subcombination, and claims thereto are subsequently found allowable, any claim(s) depending from or otherwise requiring all the limitations of the allowable subcombination will be examined for patentability in accordance with 37 CFR 1.104. See MPEP § 821.04(a). Applicant is advised that if any claim presented in a continuation or divisional application is anticipated by, or includes all the limitations of, a claim that is allowable in the present application, such claim may be subject to provisional statutory and/or nonstatutory double patenting rejections over the claims of the instant application.

Because these inventions are independent or distinct for the reasons given above and there would be a serious burden on the examiner if restriction is not required because the inventions have acquired a separate status in the art in view of their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper. Please note that this restriction requirement was directly necessitated by the supplemental claims filed on 04/04/07.
